GREAT SPEECHES

RAYMOND ROBINS AND MRS. C. FARWELL EDSON ADDRESS JOHNSON CLUB

The largest and most impressive meeting that has yet taken place in Glendale in the preliminary campaign before the presidential primary election was enjoyed at the Glendale High School Wednesday evening and was addressed by Mrs. C. Farwell Edson and by Raymond Robins. On the platform were in addition to the speakers, the officers of the Johnson-for-President Club, J. H. Franklin, president; Owen Emery, secretary; Judge Harry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly, Mrs. Frederick Baker and Charles Rudel.

Mrs. Edson

Mrs. Edson, who spoke first, took up what she considered to be the falsity of the statements which are being put out by the opponents of Johnson, particularly referring to the statement of Mrs. Cable as published in a Los Angeles newspaper to the effect that Johnson only "acquiesced in the women's suffrage amendment and in legislation for the benefit of women and children" and that "it is amusing to see him annexing all the credit for a condition he could scarcely have prevented."

Mrs. Edson declared she had been attending the legislature for years before and since Johnson was governor of California; that until he came to the governor's chair the women who went to Sacramento with measures for the benefit of women and children were treated with contempt. She told of approaching him when a candidate for nomination on the question of equal suffrage and his assurance that he could conceive of no democracy in which men and women would not have equal voting rights and how it was written into his platform. She then told of the appeal to him when the amendment was before the legislature and how he summoned to the executive chamber the senators and assemblymen elected with him on the ticket and declared to them that every pledge in that platform must be made good and they must vote for that amendment whether they personally sympathized with it or not, and how, with the governor's help the amendment went through both houses triumphantly. Under Johnson's administration the state had been cleaned up she declared before the suffrage vote was taken and it had a square deal, with every vote honestly counted.

Referring then to other constructive work, she said: "In 1911 there was brought before the legislators of the state the first eight-hour law for women that had ever come before a legislature. There wasn't a woman's club that passed a resolu-

PASSED BAD CHECKS

He was located in a Chicago hospital, where he is receiving treatment for the effects of gas received in France. He states that he needed the money to enter the hospital, and that he will make the forgeries good.—Whiteside Sentinel, Morrison, Ill.

CARD PARTY

MRS. C. E. NORTON ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MRS. MABEL RUDY

Mrs. C. E. Norton was hostess at an exceedingly pretty card party given Wednesday afternoon at her home at 324 North Maryland avenue in honor of Mrs. Mabel Rudy, who is to leave for the East within the week. Purple lilacs and the Los Angeles Rose filled a large glass basket placed where they would be the first object to greet guests and spring flowers were used elsewhere in the decoration of the house. Both Bridge and Five Hundred were played, the Bridge prize being won by Mrs. Lester Jones, the Five Hundred trophy by Mrs. Bert Woodard. Light refreshments were served at the close of play. The Bridge players were: Mesdames William Crocker, Sallie Braden, Claud Hilliard, Helen Campbell, John King, Mabel Rudy, Lester Jones and the hostess. Those at the Five Hundred table were Mesdames Cameron Thom, W. L. Andrews, Clark E. Johnson and Bert Woodard. After the game was over Mesdames Andrew Findlay and J. T. Crampton joined the circle.

MRS. OSBORN'S DEATH

PAPER IN HOME CITY PAYS LOVING TRIBUTE TO HER MEMORY

Under the heading, "Prominent Montrose Woman Dies in California," the Daily Press of Montrose, Colorado, pays the following tribute to the memory of Mrs. E. L. Osborn, who died at the Glendale home, 127 North Columbus avenue, on Wednesday of last week:

Mrs. E. L. Osborn, one of the sweetest and most beloved women Montrose has ever known, has been called to the land of eternal rest. The end came peacefully at 4:15 Wednesday morning at Glendale, Calif., where with her devoted husband and four children at her bedside Mrs. Osborn bade them a fond adieu for a little while and closed her eyes on earth to open them in heaven.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn have been residents of Montrose for nearly 35 years, and have been among the most prominent and influential of the valley's citizens. Coming here when the city was but little more than a village, they at once located a home, the Osborn ranch west of the city, where they lived for many years, and plunged at once into the life of the community to make it a greater and better place to live. Mrs. Osborn was always connected with uplift movements and the moral ben-

ENJOYING SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A. J. Harrison and family of 1009 South Columbus avenue, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harrison and daughter, Jane, of Detroit, motored to San Juan Capistrano Mission and Laguna Beach, Sunday, and report a very delightful trip. The party attended the Mission Play at San Gabriel yesterday afternoon and are planning numerous other trips during their sojourn in the Southland. Miss Jane Harrison leaves today for Redlands to spend a few days with friends and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harrison will go to Coronado where they anticipate a week's stay with friends. The Detroit visitors are not content, however, to spend too much time away from Glendale and will return from these few days' absence to 1009 South Columbus avenue for a continued visit with Mr. Harrison's brother.

SIGHT SEEING

MR. AND MRS. BRIGHT AND MR. AND MRS. HALL VISIT IMPERIAL VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bright and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who motored to the Imperial Valley last week, got back Sunday night and report a rarely interesting and delightful trip. Their route which was by way of Redlands and Palm Springs took them through a beautiful desert country carpeted with flowers. Their first stop in the Imperial country was at Calipatria where they spent a night and a day then motored to the Mexican border. They were much impressed with Calipatria which is but five years old, yet is a thriving city with lots of push and vim. Around it a large acreage is being planted to cotton. It was their first visit to that wonderland of California and they were tremendously impressed by the crops they saw growing, wheat with great heavy heads, taller than the fences, and barley and oats to match. The Brights came from Iowa and say they never saw anything like the Imperial crops in the middle west and if they were young farmers that is the country they would migrate to. The live stock they saw on alfalfa pasturage was also splendid, they report. Not as many horses were at work on the farms as one would expect because tractors are so largely used. They were greatly interested in the houses with their double roofs to protect from the excessive heat of the summer days. The nights, they were told, are always cool. Of interest was the abundant water supply which flows through the ditches carrying its heavy load of fertilizing silt, water which is used for all purposes and which is run through settling tanks and then filtered before it is employed for drinking purposes.

Coachella was quite different with its date orchards and its acres upon acres of silver-skinned onions which were just ready for market. They appeared to be the only vegetables grown there, other supplies being imported. They returned by way of San Diego, spending one night there.

FEDERATION OF LABOR OFFICIALS HISSED

INTERRUPTED WHEN HE MAKES ATTACK ON COMPULSORY ARBITRATION COURT OF KANSAS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 29.—Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, was forced to discontinue his speech before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Convention today because of cries and hissing by the delegates. Woll was delivering an attack on the Kansas Compulsory Arbitration Court when clamors of "No, no. We want Governor Allen," forced him to sit down. Prolonged applause for the governor interrupted Woll when he began the attack on the Kansas executive. "This is depotism and contrary to the primary rules of government," Woll said. "The compulsory labor court brings to mind the same theories on which I. W. W.-ism and Bolshevism are based." At this point the hissing began and Woll sat down when he found he could not make himself heard.

CARRANZA GOVERNMENT TOTTERING

REVOLUTION BREAKS OUT IN TWENTY STATES; PANIC IN MEXICO CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, April 29.—Ignacio Bonillas, former ambassador to the United States, and General Pablo Gonzales, candidates for the presidency, have agreed to withdraw in the interest of a peaceful settlement of the present disturbed condition of the country, a newspaper here said today. The newspaper said the agreement was announced following a conference of the supporters of the rival candidates. Bonillas and Gonzales will issue manifestos urging their followers to restore order, according to the newspaper.

SAN ANTONIO, April 29.—President Carranza't government in Mexico is tottering and Mexico City is in a state of panic, Col, Enrique Perceda, brother of Alfredo Perceda, governor of the Federal District of Mexico, declared today on his arrival here from Mexico City.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A group of friends of Mrs. J. T. Crampton surprised her Tuesday evening at her home at 325 West Burchett street in celebration of her birthday. They brought refreshments with them and spent a jolly evening of games, music and conversation. The group included Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Isitt, and daughters, Margaret and Jane Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howeth, Mrs. Mabel Meibergen, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hallett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meyers of Pasadena.

FINE NEW DRAFT HORSES

Objects of interest on the streets of Glendale today are the fine Clydesdale horses constituting the draft team just purchased by C. W. Kent & Son as part of the equipment they are finding necessary to meet the needs of their growing business. The horses were purchased in Los Angeles for a price the owners would not name but it was undoubtedly a long one. They are eight years old, brown in color lightened with gray and perfectly matched. They arrived yesterday and in their fine new harness attracted much attention.

H. S. BOYS ACTIVE

THREE C CLUB HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING, ELECTS OFFICERS

The Three C Club of High School boys at their last meeting held last Thursday evening at the High School under the leadership of Mr. Haynurst held an election of officers. Dale Wood was chosen president; Bob White, vice-president, and Horace McRae, secretary. Waldo Yard was made chairman of the Athletic Committee with Wilford Kline and Earl Van Dyke as associate members. Of the educational work committee, Paul Hutchinson was chosen chairman with Bob White and Don Franklin as helpers. Horace McRae was to head up the social committee while Steve Fairchild was to direct the religious work committee. As this was the regular night for athletics, the club held a regular "Stunt Night" in the gym. Next meeting night the Club will discuss the topic, "The Choice of Friends."

The main topic of conversation in the clubs now is "Summer Camp." The big camp site up in the San Gabriel is without a name and we are going to let the boys name it. The boy who sends in the name finally adopted will be sent to the two weeks summer camp with all expenses paid. So, boys, get one of the contest blanks. You may win this prize. What a grand time all the boys are going to have up there this vacation.

BABY TENT MEETS

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS ORGANIZATION HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

The Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, held quite an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening in the G. A. R. Hall. The membership is steadily increasing, and the splendid attendance proves the sincere interest taken in this patriotic work.

Department President Eva J. Bell of Santa Ana, and Dept. Treasurer Kate Fuller of Fullerton, were present and praised the officers and members of the Tent very highly for the efficient way in which the work is being done in this, the Baby Tent.

The installation of two of the officers who were unable to attend the regular installation ceremonies in March, was conducted by the Department President. Other visitors were Louraine Leech, president of Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10 of Santa Ana. Edna Wadsworth, Department organizer, and Cora Nichols, of Helen Jean Christie Tent No. 17 of Los Angeles. Much praise and honor is given to Sister Cora Nichols, whose tireless efforts were responsible for the existence of the Tent, she having sought out and signed up the required number for organizing. And to Sister Edna Wadsworth, who was installing officer, and who has been so patient and sincere in instructing this "infant" class in the beautiful work, is also given great honor.

Miss Vivian Norton, grand-daughter of Comrade C. R. Norton, was initiated, and there were several applications presented. All arrangements for attending the 12th Annual Convention of the Department of California and Nevada National Alliance, Daughters of Veterans, which will be held in Santa Barbara May 5th to 8th, were completed. Sister Susie Peck, chaplain, and Sister Winona Crawford, patriotic instructor, will accompany President Cora Jones to the convention.

STEPHENSON--JUSTEMA

PRETTY WEDDING CELEBRATED WEDNESDAY AT HOME OF BRIDE'S PARENTS

A pretty home wedding occurred Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Justema on North Central avenue when their daughter, Gladys Justema, became the bride of Dwight W. Stephenson of this city.

The living rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion, the fireplace having been converted into an altar banked with pink carnations, Madame Chatenay roses and white wistaria, potted palms and ferns. The pink and white color scheme was also carried out in the dining room decorations and in the refreshments among which a beautiful bride's cake, which was cut by the bride, was conspicuous.

Very pretty was the bride in a handsome blue tailored going-away suit with hat to match and corsage bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Rev. Hatch, formerly of Glendale, performed the ring ceremony and only the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few girl friends of the bride were present.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Clarence Edwards, of Hollywood, sang, "Beloved, It Is Morn," "Still as Night" and "At Dawning," Mrs. Noble Ripley furnishing the piano accompaniment. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Justema, Master William Justema, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Logan, Miss Mary Logan, Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Miss Dorothy Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Ripley, Mrs. E. P. Munger, Frank Munger, Mrs. Rhea Blair, Miss Lucine Justema, Ralph Van Dusen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Savage, Miss Dorothy Savage, Mrs. Seymour Smith, Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mrs. Charles S. Hall, Mrs. James L. Flint, Mrs. Gus Pulliam, Wayne Smith, Marshall Pearson, Leonard Wilson, and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Stephenson, who have gone to Catalina for a wedding trip. On their return they will be for a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson until they can get possession of the attractive bungalow which was the wedding gift of the groom's parents and which is now occupied. They were also the recipients of many other beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, linen and other furnishings for their new home.

The bride has been a resident of Glendale for the past twelve years and the groom has lived in the San Fernando Valley since his twelfth year. Both were graduated from Glendale Union High School and both are great favorites in social circles. The groom is in partnership in the practice of law with Mattison B. Jones of this city with offices in Los Angeles. He was recently elected a member of the Glendale City Council.

Personals

S. L. Smith and wife of Denver, Colo., have just arrived to visit E. O. Kepler and wife of 200 West Garfield avenue.

Mrs. E. A. Case of 337 North Kenwood has gone to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Brown, in Fullerton. She plans to return Sunday.

Frederic Buss has taken out a permit for the erection of a $600 garage building to serve as a temporary residence till he can build a home. It is to be located at 504 E. Acacia Ave.

J. H. Rowe is moving a building from the corner of Los Feliz Road and S. P. right of way to one of the lots in his three-acre tract on San Fernando Road, corner of Park avenue, and will remodel it for a residence.

F. L. Woolard, whose house at 117 South Jackson was greatly damaged by fire several days ago, has had the insurance adjusted and yesterday took out a permit for repairing the building, which it is estimated will cost $1000.

Frank Motsch, who recently sold his home at 512 North Central avenue to a Mr. Ball of Hollywood, is having Chas. W. Kent & Son build him a garage for a temporary residence at 216 East Park avenue. He will build a home on the lot later.

Judge Templeton and family of 915 East Acacia Ave. are moving Monday to Los Angeles where the judge has purchased a large apartment house on South Figueroa Street. They will retain their Glendale home, however, as one of the daughters of the family will remain here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Fallows of Denver, who have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Calkins, of 114 North Everett street, left last Sunday for their Colorado home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barnum, aunt of Mrs. Calkins, who has also been spending the winter here and whose home is in Chicago.

C. P. Brice of 304 North Kenwood arrived from Arizona by auto about a week ago. He was accompanied by his son who has been attending school in Arizona and having a week's vacation came home to spend. He went back yesterday. Mr. Brice leaves tomorrow for the Imperial Valley where he will spend about a month and from there motor back to Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prikett are moving today from 741 West Harvard street to property they own that is now in the course of construction at 401 West Harvard. The house they have been occupying was sold Monday to Harry A. McMullin of Los Angeles, who is to take possession at once. Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Prikett will "camp out" in their new home until it is completed.

H. C. Tomaw and wife got away this morning to the old home in Casey, Clark county, Illinois, after waiting nearly a month on account of the strike which tied up all freight shipments and prevented them from starting their household goods. They sold their property at 606 West Elk avenue about two months ago but expect to come back to Glendale after spending a year or so in the east, just as they did once before.

John McKlveen of Trafford, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburg, has come to live with his daughter, Mrs. George Philippi, 216 West Garfield avenue. He was out here to spend the winter of 1917-18, when his daughter lived in South Los Angeles, and liked the climate so well that he decided to come back to stay and was glad to find the family located in beautiful Glendale. He was a member of the 67th Regiment, Pennsylvania Infantry, during the Civil War and would be very glad to have comrades of the G. A. R. call on him and get acquainted.

HOOVER ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(Contributed by Hoover Club)

A letter written by Herbert C. Hoover to President Wilson November 19, 1919, has just been made public in which he urges the president to accept the reservations to the peace treaty "except for the removal of the objectionable provisions in the preamble and in addition with such other changes in their text as can be obtained by compromise without running the great danger of voting the treaty out." He goes on to say that many of the reservations are constructive and with the league once in motion he is confident that it can take care of itself. He says the delays have already seriously imperiled the economic recuperation of Europe and that the holding back of large surpluses of commodities in the United States will sooner or later inflict great hardships on our people. "The operation of the covenant," he says, "can repair mistakes in its building and the issues are so great as not to warrant the rists involved in the delay of getting it into service in the hope of securing at present a more ideal structure."

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

The 63d birthday of Dr. F. M. Collier of 218 West Windsor Road is to be celebrated with a dinner tonight at which covers will be laid for Judge Schoonover of Santa Barbara; Judge and Mrs. Templeton of Toledo, Ohio, who have been spending the winter in Southern California; Miss Ethel Ladd, Edward Ellis of Los Angeles, and Miss Anita Harrison who has planned the affair. A birthday cake of large and handsome proportions will be a feature of the feast. Guests will remain for a social evening.

CHAPTER L. OF P. E. O.

Chapter L. of the P. E. O. met at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Neel, 114 Fairview avenue, Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock. A short business session was held and then Mrs. Lyda Border, chairman of the program, took charge of the meeting. The subject of the program was "The New Map of the World" and it proved most instructive. She was assisted by Mrs. Ann Bartlett, Mrs. Genevieve Goss and Mrs. Nettie Brown. Following the program the hostess served delicious cake and tea.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday. Cloudy or foggy in the morning.

WHIST PARTY

LADIES OF THE BUSY BEE CLUB ENTERTAIN AT THE WHITE INN

The whist party given Wednesday night at the White Inn by the ladies of the Busy Bee Club of the Holy Family Catholic church was a great success. The first ladies prize, a beautiful hand painted plate, was won by Mrs. Herman Nelson, the consolation prize—a large potato—going to another Mrs. Nelson. This award caused great amusement. The first prize for gentlemen went to Mr. John of Los Angeles, the consolation favor going to Mr. Markey of Eagle Rock. In a raffle which followed play a box of cigars was won by Mr. Setright who opened the box and passed the cigars around. The three-pound box of candy raffled off for the ladies was won by Mrs. Henry Bartlett. The tables were beautifully decorated with roses, and coffee and cake were served at the conclusion of the game. Guests pronounced the affair a great success and expressed the hope that more parties of the same kind would be given.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby were host and hostess at a dinner served Tuesday evening at their pleasant home on North Jackson street at which friends from the East were guests of honor. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Benedict of Marshalltown, Iowa, their two daughters, Margaret and Katherine Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hisey of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and daughter Waunita Emery, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury and Miss Laura Salisbury, Mrs. Olive Emery, the host and hostess and their daughter, Miss Margaret Lusby. Roses were used for the decoration of the Lusby home in honor of the occasion. Following the dinner a pleasant evening of music and conversation was enjoyed.

OKLAHOMANS ATTRACTED BY GLENDALE

Mrs. Ida Harris of West Doran was a luncheon guest, Tuesday, of her niece, Mrs. Dora Lammons and the latter's daughter, in Pasadena. They have been spending the winter there. The son and brother will join them Saturday and all will return to their home in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. They are resolved to return to California next fall and have their eye on foothill property in North Glendale, which seemed to them superior in attractions to anything they have seen in the state.

C. D. LUSBY SELLS HOME TO NORTH DAKOTA MAN

C. D. Lusby has sold his home at 404 North Jackson to H. Bennett of Laramie, North Dakota. Mr. Bennett and his wife will take possession of the place next October and in the meantime Mr. Lusby will either buy or build. The Bennetts looked about extensively before buying, visiting Pasadena, Hollywood, San Diego and other cities, but Glendale suited them best.

A track team from the Broadway ungraded rooms met the Intermediate Midgets yesterday afternoon and took them into camp by a score of 20½ to 11½.

efit of the community. She is a charter member of the W. C. T. U. and also of the Union Congregational Church, and in the early life of the city was always a leader in establishing and keeping up the work of the Sunday School. She has been especially active in the cause of prohibition and her life has been a powerful influence for good in this community, an influence that will go down through the years as helping to build the Master's kingdom. Mrs. Osborn was especially philanthropic and her kindly hand has ministered comfort and eased the pillow of sickness many, many times. And when death came Mrs. Osborn did so much to make the burden lighter and many will rise up and call her blessed for the wonderful kindness of her heart.

She also shared in the social life of the city, and was exceedingly popular. In her home Mrs. Osborn was especially devoted and also as a mother was the center of a sacred spot where peace and happiness abounded. She loved her home, her family and her friends, and her passing has left a place vacant in the life of Montrose that can never be filled. The whole community pays a glowing tribute to this wonderful woman and all bow in grief with the broken-hearted family.

Before her marriage Mrs. Osborn was Miss Harriet Brice, and she is about 65 years of age. About forty-five or forty-six years ago Miss Brice became the bride of Eli L. Osborn.

Mr. Osborn is a retired stockholder of the First National Bank of this city, and for many years the family have occupied a beautiful home on the corner of South Fifth and Townsend avenue, this city. Last April Mr. and Mrs. Osborn went to California in the hope that the change would be of benefit to Mrs. Osborn, who has been failing for several years. Temporary relief was obtained, but those in constant attendance could see that no earthly relief could be secured, and for several months they have known that the end was approaching. She has grown rapidly weaker, and though the end was not unexpected, it comes as a terrible blow to her family and unusually wide circle of friends.

Miss Grace Osborn left several weeks ago to be with her mother, and Mrs. Lee and Everett Osborn were called to her bedside last week. Words are futile to express the sympathy which is extended to the family, but the whole community unites in expressing heartfelt sympathy to them.

tion indorsing it, not a single organized group in the state that asked the governor's support of the bill. He was bombarded by employers of all kinds, and yet Mrs Cable says he only acquiesced to the widespread demand of the times. We had the first eight-hour law in any state because he had the vision and foresight to protect the womanhood of the state. (Applause).

"In 1909, '11 and '13 we had the red light abatement act before the legislature. It was an act most bitterly fought by organized vice interests, by realty boards and other groups of people afraid it would restrain the guilty of San Francisco during its coming exposition. I shall never forget the pressure. The governor gave his backing to the bill and when it looked as if it was going to pass, a great lobby from San Francisco of business men and prominent people came to Sacramento who wanted the matter postponed until after the exposition. He was threatened if he let it pass that they would get out a referendum against it. The bill passed. Johnson signed it. A few days after, one of the large civic organizations of San Francisco gave a banquet for Secretary of State Bryan who came to California in opposition to our alien land law. The governor was also invited. When Senator Eddy Wolf, who represented the vice interests appeared, he received an ovation. When the governor appeared he was hissed. Does that look as if Governor Johnson merely acquiesced? Before women voted he had done away with race track gambling and with slot machines. We forget these things nowdays.

"In 1913 two great measures before the people were the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Minimum Wage. They were called 'two of Johnson's ten commandments" in that session. He was no acquiescing governor who let things be pushed through by other interests. His program was always for the people of this state and that program always went through. (Applause). The first of these was fought by business interests, particularly the insurance companies. The Los Angeles Times called it 'The Industrial Paralysis Act.' There is now no employer that does not admit this act has been one of great benefit and justice. The Minimum Wage Act was opposed by organized labor which believed that if women were thus protected by the state there would be no incentive to organization, but the governor was convinced they were wrong. It was passed and California now has the highest minimum wage law for women of any state in the Union. He did not stop with signing the bill but appointed an unsalaried commission to enforce it. It was adequately financed so it could function and do the work it was supposed to do. Practically all the industrial commissions in other parts of the country are so inadequately financed they are a joke.

"Who are the opponents of Hiram Johnson today in this state besides the group of people who have been fuddled by the League of Nations? He is being opposed by his old enemies who have always opposed him. There will not be less than $100,000 spent in Los Angeles county in the effort to defeat him, while $10,000 would probably cover every dollar spent on his own campaign. You have perhaps noticed a fine group of delegates in the opposition, but who is conducting the campaign under that body? Phil Stanton, who ran against Governor Johnson for the governorship of California and who was the most virulent opponent of women's suffrage, also Walter Leeds who is chairman of the campaign committee. Both were put out of politics when Johnson came into his own in this state. These are the people back of the opponents of the campaign. In San Francisco more money is being spent with the 'wets' to defeat Johnson than in any other place. Reagan, president of the bartenders' association is at the head of the organization. The only organized labor members are the people connected with the liquor interests. The same old crowd of organized vice is opposing Hiram Johnson, in this state."

Mr. Robins

Mr. Robins, the chief speaker of the evening, was then introduced by President Franklin. He is a magnetic speaker and held the absorbed attention of his audience for more than an hour of rapid discourse in which he reviewed the issues that will come into the campaign, the policies of the administration which have been opposed by Senator Johnson.

From his own personal experience after service with the Red Cross in Russia he gave reasons for backing the stand taken by Johnson in opposition to intervention in Russia and in his demand for the return of our men from Archangel. In the space at command it would be impossible to reproduce his address. Only the high points can be touched upon. He said, for instance: "There have been only four periods in history comparable with this hour: The golden age of Pericles, the birth of Christ, the discovery of America, the renaissance in Germany. Today every man and woman is living in one of the master moments. It is worthy of the best of our thinking. I hope we will be able to think of our homes and children, of humanity rather than questions of property and privileges.

"The League of Nations will be in this campaign and will increase its importance. The question lies so deep that nothing less than the judgment of the whole people can settle it." (Applause).

He spoke of the hopes he and his fellow citizens had entertained of a treaty of peace at Versailles which would be just to the allies and to "the overwhelmed," which would remove all future causes of war and guarantee the peace of the world; free it from the tyrannous aspirations of imperialists, and protect it from a similar catastrophe. Said he: "The people would have accepted minor faults with willingness, but I have to confess to you I am unqualifiedly opposed to both the treaty and the League of Nations. (Applause). I believe instead of being a treaty of peace it is a treaty of violence and force, that it contains the seeds of war in greater number than any other similar convention; that the league means the binding of American manhood and American money to the service of the bankrupt governments of Europe in the carrying on of economic imperialism in the world. Because of that it is worthy of the most intelligent study and the censure of free men and women.

"I point you to the treaty provision in regard to the S ar Valley. It has been German for 600 years. By the treaty of Versailles it has been forcibly turned over to the French government, put under ehe French flag and the French language. This is to do in 1920 exactly what Bismarck did in 1871 when he took French homes in Alsace and turned them over to the German flag and sowed the seeds of the war of 1914. Two wrongs never make one right, and never will. And tonight in that German land men and women are dreaming not of quick reconstruction but of how they may by some means have force enough to get back to their own people, their language, institutions and habits of thought. There is the foundation of future war in Europe."

He then referred to the Shantung clause of the treaty, saying: "I would ask by what principle of making the world safe for democracy were thirteen millions of Chinese taken from their own empire with one of the best ports in China, and turned over to the most ruthless enemy of the Chinese people, the one imperial autocracy which has survived the war, the government of Japan? This crime of Shantung is a most serious blow against the best elements in Japan—who have viewed with apprehension the growth of imperialism there—as well as against the peace of the world. The Chinese had trusted America for 30 years. It was a great American Secretary of State who worked out a doctrine for the Orient that made for peace and justice in that region. It was 'the integrity of China and the open door.' We announced the doctrine, developed it, secured its adoption by Great Britain, France and Italy. It has bound China to America with hooks of steel. When we went into the war she sent her 400,000 working sons to do the hardest and least requited toil of France. China trusted us and China has been betrayed by the Shantung clause of the treaty. Japan seeks to do in the Orient exactly what Germany did in the West. It is to that nation and that power we have opened up the Oriental world and planted there the seed of future war. Ask any soldier what the attitude of Japan was in the war. He will tell you it was getting domination in the rich Siberian land.

"This treaty, under the League of Nations, binds us morally if not otherwise to use the manhood and money of America to vindicate the territorial integrity of all the signatory powers taking in all the adjustments for economic exploitation settled at the treaty of Versailles. How many of you would like to send sons from your home or spend the money of your producing years for the purpose of sending those boys to vindicate and maintain the right of imperialist Japan to domination over 30,000,000 Chinese, or the rights of whatever of imperialism remains in France over 600,000 Germans in the Saar Valley? All peoples are instinctively against economic imperialism. The treaty of Versailles not only recognizes it but justifies it in every nation that has received benefit. So I say the treaty and the league combined would bind the American people, their homes and money to the service of the bankrupt governments of Europe, not serving the people but their governments in trying to enforce provisions that would finally be found unenforcible and bring war rather than peace."

Referring to the high cost of living he referred also to the profiteers declaring it would be of little use to jail them because for every one incarcerated 20 would rise up to take his place on the chance of the profit without the jail sentence. (Laughter and applause). Were Johnson to be elected with a congress to back him, he declared it would be impossible for him or any president to reduce the cost of living to what it was in 1914 because eight millions of producers in the zenith of their powers have been snuffed out. There is a shortage of producers and the stored wealth of geenerations has been poured out not for production but for destruction. There is a social and economic deficit of both producers and products. Said he: "It is a great economic fact and you and your children will have to bear the burden until there is again a surplus."

Referring to Russia he spoke of its hatred of what it terms the "Yellow Dog," meaning Japan, because it has been forced to resist the encroachments for hundreds of years of the Tartars, the Mongols and then the Japanese. "When America intervened we did so behind the flag of the Mikado and all Russia united to resist the invader, raising an army of 13,000,000 men," which, the speaker declared, had been victorious on all fronts. Said he: "Instead of building democracy we built imperialism and stamped in Bolshevism. We did it in obedience to the pressure of France and England which wanted to have the revolutionary government overthrown so they might be guaranteed the old debts loaned to the imperialistic Romanoff organization. If you do not want to have that kind of imperialism, that kind of disgrace, you do not need to have it in America. If I know the temper of Americans we are going to have in Washington a president that will maintain our old historic fairness to all the nations of the world and not put American men and money into imperialistic adventures six thousand miles from home." (Great applause).

He referred to Johnson's successful fight against attempts to gag the press by the administration when he first reached the senate, the speaker declaring "bayonets against ideas is the oldest failure in history. The only answer to a wrong idea is a right idea."

In concluding his speech, he said: "Why am I here? Why have I come 2500 miles paying my own expenses and my own hotel bills? I am here on behalf of the senator from California and because of what he did in this state that Mrs. Edson has so splendidly spoken of; because of the service he did in Washington in defying the most powerful organization in modern history, the most powerful political master of modern times. I am here and by what right? How do I happen to be here?" He then stated that 25 years ago he was working 12 hours a day seven days in the week in a mine in East Tennessee for $1 a day, that 20 years ago he went to Klondike and dug from frozen placers "enough clean gold that had never robbed anybody" to make him economically free and he had been free ever since. He learned what Johnson had done in California through a politician, a henchman for the S. P. Machine who had tried to corrupt him before he went to the Klondike and describing the effect upon him he said: "I studied the facts in Johnson's leadership and I found he was simply a strong man who fought against the domination of a machine. He made the same kind of a fight he is now making. That man is appealing all over this country, without money, without a newspaper, to men and women of the rank and file of the Republican party as he appealed ten years ago to the people of this state. There is something in the eye and voice of Hiram Johnson when he talks to a great company that convinces them here is a man who is his own master, a man who is square. He may not be able to do all he promises, but he will go the limit. That cannot be pretended. You know whether there is honesty and sincerity, or sham and humbug. There is a telepathy between speaker and hearer that tells the story. He has impressed this country as a man of honesty, integrity, courage, a two-fisted fighting man. The country is answering. You answer and nominate him."

"Have you read Scott's novels?"

"All but his 'Emulsion.' I have seen it advertised, but I have never been able to get a copy."
